

THE EVENING WORLD SUGGESTS: Make Christmas 1921, Greatest Peace and Good Will Festival Round The World.

NINE ARE BITTEN BY MAD DOG IN BROOKLYN STREETS

Police Are Searching For the Animal, Believed to Be in Prospect Park.

TWO CHILDREN VICTIMS.

Seven Women Are Treated for Wounds—Updram in Three Neighborhoods.

A small black and white fox terrier which has already bitten nine persons, in three police precincts of Brooklyn, is now supposed to have escaped into Prospect Park, and the police of the Fifth Avenue Station are searching for it to-day. The dog made its first attack in the Parkville section early yesterday afternoon, then dashed on into the neighborhood of the Bergen Street Station and was last heard of in the Fifth Avenue Precinct.

The dog ran wild from 3:40 o'clock yesterday afternoon until 11 o'clock last night, when it disappeared in the direction of Prospect Park. It had three neighborhoods in an uproar, with calls for police and ambulances.

Its first victim was Anna M. Guinan, twenty, of No. 728 Cortelyou Road, Flatbush. She was at East Seventh Street and Avenue C, in the Parkville section, when the animal came upon her suddenly and bit her on the left ankle. After one snap at her, the dog dashed on. Miss Guinan went to the office of a physician in the neighborhood, was treated and went home.

Nearly two hours later, at 7:50 o'clock, the animal attacked Clara Miller, forty, of No. 1647 Flatbush Avenue, at Coney Avenue and St. Paul's Place, biting her on the left leg. She also was treated by a physician and went home.

By this time word had been sent to the police that a mad dog was on the rampage, but for half an hour nothing was seen of it. At 8 o'clock little Catherine Goodman, six, of No. 482 East Ninth Street, who was at Avenue C and East Third Street, was suddenly bowled over by the dog which flung itself upon her, bit her on the left leg and ran off before any of those nearby could strike or stop it.

It was in the Bergen Street Precinct that the creature next appeared and at 8:45 it bit two women who were walking together at Sixth Avenue and Carroll Street. They were Mary Lynch, forty, of No. 749 President Street, and Mary Moore, twenty-five, of No. 738 Carroll Street. Both were bitten on the left ankle.

Elizabeth Kiely, fifty, of No. 453 First Street, was the next victim. She was crossing Seventh Avenue at First Street when the dog sprang at her, bit her on the right ankle and went along First Street at top speed.

No other victim came to police attention until 10 o'clock, when word reached the Fifth Avenue Station that William Mathison, six, of No. 277 Sixth Street, while at Third Street and Gowanus Canal, was bitten on the right leg. He was treated by an ambulance surgeon.

Two more women were bitten after that, one at 10:30 o'clock, when Anna Wenz, 21, of No. 371 Sixth Avenue, was attacked in Seventh Street near Fifth Avenue and bitten on the left leg, and the other at 11 o'clock at Sixth Avenue and Fifth Street. She was Mary Barry, 28, of No. 375 Fifth Street.

FIREMAN HURT WHEN TIRE FLIES OFF TRUCK

Hurled to Street and Suffers Possible Fracture of Skull.

George Poot, twenty-seven years old, of No. 1423 Parker Street, the Bronx, a fireman attached to Hook and Ladder No. 25, at No. 205 West 77th Street, was taken to Roosevelt Hospital early this morning suffering from a possible fracture of the skull after he had been hit by a tire which flew off a wheel of the truck on Amsterdam Avenue, between 78th and 79th Streets, when responding to an alarm. Poot was thrown to the street.

Fireman Klaseck jumped from the truck and with the aid of William Farrell of No. 110 West 72d Street, placed Poot in a taxicab and took him to the hospital.

The fire, which was at No. 2289 Broadway, in Schwartz and Holder's haberdashery, caused little damage.

MRS. J. P. RAGONE, WHO IS ON TRIAL AS MAN'S SLAYER

MRS. JOSEPHINE RAGONE.

INDIAN PRINCE FINED FOR AUTO VIOLATION

Appears in Court in Gorgeous Raiment With One of His Wives.

Royalty invaded the Traffic Court to-day in response to a summons and gave the court a jarr. Jovohad de Rajah, who said he was an Indian prince of the royal blood and a resident of Sime, accompanied by the Princess Olga, one of his three wives, and her friend, Miss Zazari, was charged with having driven in Central Park on last Wednesday night with the tail lights of his automobile out.

In gorgeous raiment the Orientals stood out like a holiday spectacle. There were jewels in the prince's turban; they shone through his gorgeous robes and glittered in his sandals. The court attendants stood in awe, until Magistrate House ascended the bench. Then one of them woke up and told the bailiff to tell the royal guy to take off his kelly, indicating the royal turban.

The prince responded that such things weren't done in India, that to do so would bring down upon his royal head the wrath of the gods and cause his forefathers to weep. The turban remained.

Prince Jovohad told his Honor he was very sorry, and his Honor let him off with a fine of two dollars.

"Tell the Indian he's set back two bucks," said a court attendant.

POLICEMAN IS HELD, HIS PRISONER FREED

George W. Hammond Accused of Clubbing Youth.

When George W. Hammond, special policeman at the Bedford Theatre, Brooklyn, appeared to-day in the Flatbush Court before Magistrate O'Neill as complainant against a youth of seventeen on a disorderly conduct charge, the Magistrate dismissed the charge against the youth and asked for the arrest of the special policeman on a charge of assault.

MRS. MAIER STRANGLER BY LEFT-HANDED MAN

Doctor Who Examined Body Testifies at Inquest.

MINNEOLA, L. I., Nov. 21.—A strong left-handed person strangled to death Mrs. Elizabeth Maier, eighty-two years old, last Thursday or Friday at her home at New Cassel, L. I., according to Dr. Arthur D. Jacques, one of the surgeons who performed the autopsy Saturday night. Dr. Jacques testified to-day at the inquest here by Conner Arnold P. Kohler.

The aged woman's body was found Friday afternoon. The air had been shut off from her lungs for about three minutes, Dr. Jacques said, and the fingermarks on her throat indicated that the strangling was done by the left hand of the stranger. Bruises on the victim's left hand and arm showed an apparent attempt to pull off her diamond ring.

Sees I. H. T. for Daughter's Death. Charging that his daughter, Celia, was pushed off a platform of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company at Freeman Street and Southern Boulevard and killed, on Sept. 7 last, Israel Zoberman to-day filed suit against the railroad for $25,000 damages.

WOMAN SO FAIR TALES MEN COULD NOT CONVICT HER

Fourteen Frankly Say So in Court Where Mrs. Ragone Faces Murder Trial.

The childish beauty of Mrs. Josephine Pannelli Ragone, of No. 318 East 104th Street, who is to be tried for murder before Judge Crain in General Sessions, so affected the members of the special panel of talesmen summoned for the jury that the first fourteen of them frankly admitted they would hesitate to find her guilty of a crime for which death in the electric chair was the penalty—no matter what the evidence.

This young woman's counsel are David C. Hirsch, Newman Levy and Miss Helen Wassman, Assistant District Attorney J. E. McDonald is in charge of the prosecution. The three little girls of Mrs. Ragone—Kate, four; Millie, three, and Ida, two—are at home with her mother. According to the charge, Mrs. Ragone shot and killed Frank Incalano of No. 325 East 104th Street in Second Avenue, near 116th Street on Oct. 14, 1920. In August of that year while her husband was working in Baltimore the young woman was friendly with Incalano. When her husband returned she tried to put Incalano out of her life but he refused to leave her alone.

Mrs. Otto H. Kahn, who has taken an interest in the story of Mrs. Ragone, appeared in court at this afternoon's session, accompanied by Sheriff Knott. She talked with the lawyers and with Deputy Sheriff Euse Norton, who has the prisoner in custody.

SUCCESSOR TO LEO IS EXPECTED BY DEC. 1

Early Selection Necessary So 1,500 Pensioners Can Be Paid.

Due to the fact that the Commissioner of Street Cleaning is the trustee of the D. S. C. Pension Fund, serving under a bond of $75,000, a full-fledged successor to John P. Leo, late Commissioner of Street Cleaning, is apt to be appointed before Dec. 1, or otherwise the 1,500 pensioners of the department will have to wait for their regular monthly stipend.

Under the law the Commissioner of Street Cleaning must sign each month a voucher for about $50,000 to pay the widows and the pensioners of that department. Rather than discontinue this army of city dependents it is figured that Mayor Hylan will not permit a lapse to occur, and in all probability Mr. Leo's successor will be appointed a month ahead of the usual Jan. 1 appointments.

Fallon Seeks Immediate Trial for Capt. Bailey

William J. Fallon, attorney for Police Captain W. A. Bailey, who has been under suspension since his indictment in January last for accepting a $200 gratuity in the fur strike, moved for an immediate trial for his client to-day before Judge Mulqueen in the General Sessions. District Brokers asked a postponement for a week, explaining that motions made before Judge Crain in the case of Judge Mulqueen in the General Sessions. Judge Mulqueen in the General Sessions. Judge Mulqueen in the General Sessions.

VANITY BOXES AND BREWERIES 3,000 YEARS AGO

Those in Ancient Egypt Much Like Same Commodities of Modern Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.—Breweries and vanity boxes of ancient Egypt were much like the same commodities to-day. This has been proved by the receipts of one of each at the University Museum.

The vanity box was used by some lady of high degree at Lahun, in Upper Egypt, about 1,500 B. C. The brewery is a model found in a tomb at Lahun, or Ghorab. It is in a small box which was placed near the body of the dead man. All the vats and other apparatus necessary for the brewing of beer were reproduced on a small scale, but in exact proportion, and in one corner was found a small quantity of barley. The box also contained exquisitely modelled figures of brewery workers.

In the same or another tomb the explorers found two models of small boats filled with rowers and fitted with masts and sails. This shows the deceased carrying a rod and a staff, which is unusual. It is a reminder of a phrase in the 23d Psalm which has never been fully understood.

THE NEW YORK EVENING WORLD wants the people to make Christmas, 1921, the greatest Peace and Good Will Festival the world has ever known.

With the co-operation of every man, woman and child who believes in the great sentiments that underlie the celebration of the holiday it can be done.

And The Evening World asks EVERYBODY to help.

The favorable attitude of the delegates of the nations at Washington forecasts the dawning of the Peace of the World before this year's Christmas rolls round. Why not celebrate its beginning, along with the anniversary of the dawn of the Light of the World?

And why should not the great heart of humanity, saddened and almost overcome by after-war weariness, be attuned to a new note of Good Will this Christmastide?

Let it be said of this coming Christmas that though Santa Claus may leave some empty stockings, nobody, anywhere, shall go hungry in his heart for a friendly, neighborly greeting and the Good Will some other heart can give.

If you are with The Evening World in this enterprise, sign and send in the coupon you will find printed in the paper to-day and every day this week.

This does not bind you to any programme, no matter who presents it, but just for the sake of "starting the ball rolling." The Evening World suggests certain things that will give outward evidence of the Christmas spirit in the hearts of men, women and children. Some of these things which organizations and individuals are invited to do are:

Will every church open and light its church building or parish house every evening from Sunday, Dec. 18, to Sunday, Jan. 1, and will church workers be on duty every evening to give welcome to strangers and friends?

Will every Y. M. C. A., K. of C., Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. H. A. club and settlement house keep "open house" for strangers and members alike every evening during the two weeks?

Will theatre managers open their theatres for one afternoon of the week before Christmas for a free matinee for poor or crippled children and poor mothers?

Will actresses and actors and musicians volunteer to entertain the convalescent patients of some hospital or the inmates of some charitable institution or prison, and will their organizations undertake to furnish entertainments for these institutions, for the Salvation Army's free dinners and for like entertainment for the stranger and the poor?

Will Community Service organizations or their successors make efforts to assure community Christmas Trees in every square and park in Greater New York and in every neighboring city and town?

Will the musicians and musical organizations assure programmes of Christmas carols and popular songs for every Community Christmas Tree on Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve?

And at all these public gatherings will not the people talk and sing of the blessings to come from the Peace of the World?

Will every man and woman pay a visit to a sick or invalid friend, to a patient in a hospital or to the inmates of some institution or prison?

Will every man and woman pay a visit to at least one neighbor or friend?

Will every automobile owner give his or her car for a ride for some invalid or poor woman or poor child one fine-weather day during the two weeks?

Will every head of a household invite one child or one stranger to be a guest at his table for Christmas dinner?

Will every child give a toy, old or new, to some other child?

Will every city and town illuminate its public buildings with appropriate holiday designs?

Will every railroad company display in its stations a "Welcome—Happy Christmas" sign?

Will stores, hotels and banks display a Christmas sign and provide holiday decorations and illuminations, and will they display prominently, from Dec. 18 to Dec. 25, placards reading: "Write a letter to your home folks this week?"

Will men, women and children promise themselves to extend a hearty Christmas Greeting to every stranger, friend or neighbor they meet on Christmas or New Year's Day?

Will all endeavor to fill their minds with kindly thoughts and lend their hands to some kindly, friendly neighborly act of Good Will?

Readers of The Evening World are asked to fill in, sign and forward to this newspaper the printed coupon, so that when volunteers may be needed their whereabouts will be known.

The things The Evening World suggests that everybody do to show a working faith in Christmas teachings are no part of a set programme. All the people are asked to do all in their power to make this Christmas real—a living message of Peace on Earth and Good Will to all men.

BROOKLYN BISHOP ONE OF YOUNGEST IN UNITED STATES

RT. REV. THOMAS E. MOLLOY
PHOTO BY BACHMAN

HAIR AND SKIRTS, IF BOBBED RIGHT, SUIT THIS PASTOR

He's for Shows and a Good Time, Even in Sunday School, Is Newark Minister.

The Rev. Alexander Cairns, pastor of the High Street Presbyterian Church of Newark, undertakes every Sunday night to answer questions sent to him earlier by members of the congregation. Here are some of his latest answers:

Q. Do you believe in bobbed hair? A. Yes—and in bobbed skirts, too, if they are not too bobbed.

Q. Isn't a 95 per cent. American a worth while fellow? A. Yes, but we covet the other 5 per cent. too.

Q. Is it wrong to attend shows? A. Good ones, no; bad ones, yes. I have a ticket in my pocket for a good one.

Q. What sin is there in having a jolly good time in a Sunday School room? A. None, so long as it is decent and not destructive.

Q. Do you believe in Sunday movies? A. Yes, if they are municipally owned and non-commercialized, and censored by the Church Federation. Sunday is for worship and recreation.

Brooklyn Court Clerk Ousted by Brooklyn Decision.

Justice Van Sicken to-day upheld the appointment on Jan. 1, 1922, of Edward R. Domschke of No. 231 Eldert Street, Brooklyn, to be Assistant Clerk at the Seventh District Municipal Court. The ruling ousts Lawrence Messenger, who has been holding the position. Messenger was appointed in 1918. He contended that he was appointed for a full term of six years.

Stabbed in School Boy Fight.

In a row between Allen Challenger, fourteen, and Earl Reed, same age, both negroes and pupils of Public School No. 5, 14th Street and Edgecombe Avenue, the Challenger boy was stabbed with a penknife in the left arm and side. He was attended at Harlem Hospital and went to his home, No. 115 West 143d Street. The Reed boy escaped.

Shot Policeman; Gets 20 Years.

Twenty years in Sing Sing was the sentence County Judge Humphrey imposed on Thomas Maloney for shooting Policeman Daniel Shine at Jackson Avenue and 47th Street, Corona, L. I., on the night of Aug. 21 when the policeman attempted to search him. Shine is back on duty.

Accused of Selling Drugs to Chorus Girls.

Rosa O'Neill of No. 232 West 118th Street, and William Willis, who gave his address as the Lenox Baths, 112th Street and Lenox Avenue, were arraigned to-day before United States Commissioner Hitchcock on a charge of violating the Harrison Drug Law. They were arrested Saturday afternoon on 41st Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, charged with selling cocaine and heroin to chorus girls.

Accused of Selling Drugs to Chorus Girls.

Rosa O'Neill of No. 232 West 118th Street, and William Willis, who gave his address as the Lenox Baths, 112th Street and Lenox Avenue, were arraigned to-day before United States Commissioner Hitchcock on a charge of violating the Harrison Drug Law. They were arrested Saturday afternoon on 41st Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, charged with selling cocaine and heroin to chorus girls.

Accused of Selling Drugs to Chorus Girls.

Rosa O'Neill of No. 232 West 118th Street, and William Willis, who gave his address as the Lenox Baths, 112th Street and Lenox Avenue, were arraigned to-day before United States Commissioner Hitchcock on a charge of violating the Harrison Drug Law. They were arrested Saturday afternoon on 41st Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, charged with selling cocaine and heroin to chorus girls.

Accused of Selling Drugs to Chorus Girls.

Rosa O'Neill of No. 232 West 118th Street, and William Willis, who gave his address as the Lenox Baths, 112th Street and Lenox Avenue, were arraigned to-day before United States Commissioner Hitchcock on a charge of violating the Harrison Drug Law. They were arrested Saturday afternoon on 41st Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, charged with selling cocaine and heroin to chorus girls.

Accused of Selling Drugs to Chorus Girls.

Rosa O'Neill of No. 232 West 118th Street, and William Willis, who gave his address as the Lenox Baths, 112th Street and Lenox Avenue, were arraigned to-day before United States Commissioner Hitchcock on a charge of violating the Harrison Drug Law. They were arrested Saturday afternoon on 41st Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, charged with selling cocaine and heroin to chorus girls.

MOLLOY AND DUNN FORMALLY NAMED BISHOPS BY POPE

Many American Appointments Announced at Secret Consistory.

ROME, Nov. 21 (Associated Press). The Pope held a secret consistory this morning in the presence of all the Cardinals living in Rome, in which he appointed the following Bishops:

Right Rev. Thomas E. Molloy, D. D., Titular Bishop of Loria and Administrator of the Diocese of Brooklyn, appointed Bishop of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Right Rev. Alexander J. McGavick, D. D., Titular Bishop of Marconipoli, transferred to the vacant see of La Crosse, Wis.; Right Rev. Joseph A. Conroy, D. D., Titular Bishop of Arindela and Administrator of the Diocese of Ogdensburg, transferred to the vacant see of Ogdensburg, N. Y.

The Pope officially announced the following appointments, which were made by brief since the last consistory: Most Rev. Michael Curley, D. D., former Bishop of St. Augustine, Fla., appointed Archbishop of Baltimore, Md.; Right Rev. Joseph Schrembs, former Bishop of Toledo, appointed Bishop of Cleveland, O.; Right Rev. Samuel A. Stritch, D. D., Chancellor of the Diocese of Nashville, appointed Bishop of Toledo, O.; Right Rev. John J. Dunn, D. D., Chancellor of the Archdiocese of New York, appointed Auxiliary Bishop of New York; Right Rev. Michael J. Crane, D. D., Vicar General of Philadelphia, appointed Auxiliary Bishop to the Archbishop of Philadelphia; Right Rev. Edward F. Hoban, D. D., Chancellor of the Archdiocese of Chicago, appointed Auxiliary Bishop of Chicago.

During the secret consistory the Pontiff delivered an allocution, which has not yet been published.

Bishop Molloy has been acting head of the Diocese of Brooklyn since the death of Bishop McDonnell last August. He was born at Nashua, N. H., and studied for the priesthood at St. Anselm, N. H., St. Francis College and in Rome. He was ordained Sept. 19, 1908, and became secretary to Bishop Mulderlein in the Chancellor's office of the Brooklyn diocese. He became assistant to the record of All Saints Cathedral and was President of the St. Joseph's Day College for Women. He became assistant to Bishop McDonnell Aug. 8, 1920. Bishop Molloy is thirty-six years old and is one of the youngest bishops in the world.

Accused of Selling Drugs to Chorus Girls.

Rosa O'Neill of No. 232 West 118th Street, and William Willis, who gave his address as the Lenox Baths, 112th Street and Lenox Avenue, were arraigned to-day before United States Commissioner Hitchcock on a charge of violating the Harrison Drug Law. They were arrested Saturday afternoon on 41st Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, charged with selling cocaine and heroin to chorus girls.

Accused of Selling Drugs to Chorus Girls.

Rosa O'Neill of No. 232 West 118th Street, and William Willis, who gave his address as the Lenox Baths, 112th Street and Lenox Avenue, were arraigned to-day before United States Commissioner Hitchcock on a charge of violating the Harrison Drug Law. They were arrested Saturday afternoon on 41st Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, charged with selling cocaine and heroin to chorus girls.

Accused of Selling Drugs to Chorus Girls.

Rosa O'Neill of No. 232 West 118th Street, and William Willis, who gave his address as the Lenox Baths, 112th Street and Lenox Avenue, were arraigned to-day before United States Commissioner Hitchcock on a charge of violating the Harrison Drug Law. They were arrested Saturday afternoon on 41st Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, charged with selling cocaine and heroin to chorus girls.

Accused of Selling Drugs to Chorus Girls.

Rosa O'Neill of No. 232 West 118th Street, and William Willis, who gave his address as the Lenox Baths, 112th Street and Lenox Avenue, were arraigned to-day before United States Commissioner Hitchcock on a charge of violating the Harrison Drug Law. They were arrested Saturday afternoon on 41st Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, charged with selling cocaine and heroin to chorus girls.

Accused of Selling Drugs to Chorus Girls.

Rosa O'Neill of No. 232 West 118th Street, and William Willis, who gave his address as the Lenox Baths, 112th Street and Lenox Avenue, were arraigned to-day before United States Commissioner Hitchcock on a charge of violating the Harrison Drug Law. They were arrested Saturday afternoon on 41st Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, charged with selling cocaine and heroin to chorus girls.

Accused of Selling Drugs to Chorus Girls.

Rosa O'Neill of No. 232 West 118th Street, and William Willis, who gave his address as the Lenox Baths, 112th Street and Lenox Avenue, were arraigned to-day before United States Commissioner Hitchcock on a charge of violating the Harrison Drug Law. They were arrested Saturday afternoon on 41st Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, charged with selling cocaine and heroin to chorus girls.

Accused of Selling Drugs to Chorus Girls.

Rosa O'Neill of No. 232 West 118th Street, and William Willis, who gave his address as the Lenox Baths, 112th Street and Lenox Avenue, were arraigned to-day before United States Commissioner Hitchcock on a charge of violating the Harrison Drug Law. They were arrested Saturday afternoon on 41st Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, charged with selling cocaine and heroin to chorus girls.

Accused of Selling Drugs to Chorus Girls.

Rosa O'Neill of No. 232 West 118th Street, and William Willis, who gave his address as the Lenox Baths, 112th Street and Lenox Avenue, were arraigned to-day before United States Commissioner Hitchcock on a charge of violating the Harrison Drug Law. They were arrested Saturday afternoon on 41st Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, charged with selling cocaine and heroin to chorus girls.

Accused of Selling Drugs to Chorus Girls.

Rosa O'Neill of No. 232 West 118th Street, and William Willis, who gave his address as the Lenox Baths, 112th Street and Lenox Avenue, were arraigned to-day before United States Commissioner Hitchcock on a charge of violating the Harrison Drug Law. They were arrested Saturday afternoon on 41st Street, between Seventh and Eighth Avenues, charged with selling cocaine and heroin to chorus girls.

TRIAL POSTPONED, GIRL DENIES GUILT IN GARBE SHOOTING

Augusta Humann and Joseph Labasci Both Assert Innocence.

The trial of Augusta Humann, eighteen, of Ozone Park, and Joseph Labasci, of Brooklyn, for the murder of Harry Garbe on Oct. 27, was to have begun to-day in the Queens County Court, but upon the application of their attorney, Judge Humphrey postponed it until next Monday morning.

The presence of both prisoners in court was necessary for this action, and after the court had granted the request, the girl made this statement to a reporter for The Evening World: "I am not worrying at all about the case. I am entirely innocent of this thing. All that troubles me is the unhappiness it is giving my parents."

"I knew Harry Garbe for about two and a half years and went with him until a year ago. I never was out much at night except to go now and then to a dance or the movies. I liked Garbe, and if it hadn't been for his death we might have been good friends again."

"On the night of the murder I was with Joseph Labasci at a dance and stayed there till I was called home by a message telephoned to me by my father. He said my mother was ill but it was just to get me home on account of Harry's death."

"I have known Labasci for about three months. It is not true that Harry identified me in the hospital, as has been said, because he was out of his head at that time."

Labasci also talked with the reporter.

"I never knew Garbe," he said, "never heard of him and never owned a revolver."

"I am innocent of this shooting and I can prove it. The night of the murder detectives took me to the hospital where Garbe was and four times they held me before him. But he refused to say I was the person who had done the shooting, though the detectives tried to have him say that."

"Lilies of the Field" Fade Into Bankruptcy.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed to-day against the "Lilies of the Field," Inc., a theatrical production corporation at No. 25 West 45th Street. Among the principal creditors named were: Sally S. Hansen, $500, cash loaned; Joseph E. Shaw, $500, open account; and Stella Barbo, $20 for services.

Harvard Man Accused by Peddler.

Robert Tracy of No. 21 St. Mark's Place, Brooklyn, who said he was a Harvard man and a physician, no longer practicing, was held in $1,000 bail to-day in the Fifth Avenue Court on a charge of extortion. Reuben Weinhouse, a peddler, of No. 193 Varot Street, charged that Tracy, posing as a police captain, demanded $10 to let him and his cart stay at Third Avenue and 51st Street. Tracy denied the charge.

THANKSGIVING DAY A Special Turkey Dinner

Celery
Chicken or Cream of Oyster Soup

Roast Young Turkey
with
Dressing and Giblet Gravy